Plan Wedding

With the future benedict to graduate from the University of California this month, Miss Edina Catherine Heagerty and her fiance, Mr. Aldo Nelson, are planning their marriage for late summer in 1950.

Miss Heagerty, now a sophomore student at Berkeley, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Heagerty of 66th Avenue, and graduated from Castlemont High School, where she was editor of the Castlemont Cryer. She has just been elected president of Phrateres honor society.

Known as Al to all his acquaintances, Mr. Nelson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nelson of Octavia Street, and studied at Fremont High School before entering the university in Berkeley. While he was in the service, he studied for a time at the University of Glasgow.

Justwed Couple to Return to Classes

TRIB D SEP 3 - 1930

When the former Edina Catherine Heagerty of 66th Avenue returns for her senior year at the University of California this semester it will be as Mrs. Aldo Hadden Nelson. The pair, whose engagement was announced at Ritter Hall where Edina lived as a student, were married at St. Bernard's Church a fortnight ago.

Their honeymoon trip was to Santa Barbara, from which they returned to College Avenue in Berkeley to make their home. The bridegroom has been teaching at Jefferson School in San Leandro since his own graduation from the University of California, but plans to study for his secondary teaching credential at San Francisco State College this year.

The veil which Edina wore was her mother's, made of ivory lace attached to a coronet of pearls. To match it, her gown was of ivory satin, with clusters of pearls on the small satin collar and edging the marqui-sette yoke. She had lilies of the valley and an orchid as a marker for her prayer book.

Mrs. David Henry Haegerty chose a navy blue taffeta ensemble with pink hat and gloves and a corsage of orchids, while Aldo's mother, Mrs. Arthur Nelson of Octavia Street, had pink accessories and orchids with her black crepe.

Mrs. Bruce Burroughs, matron of honor, was in blue brocade and held a nosegay of yellow carnations, while bridesmaids, Mrs. John Capilla and Carolyn Sanders, were in yellow with blue blossoms. The dresses were made by the same design, strapless with boleros of matching marquisette.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Gaylord Nelson of Elk Grove, and ushers were James Berwick and Joseph Perez.

David Heagerty walked to the altar with his daughter, and with Mrs. Heagerty was host at the wedding reception, held at Glenview Women's Club.
